

Colour The Picture And Spot

The more spot colours used, the more film and plates are needed, hence the increased costs. To keep costs down it's possible to create tints of a spot colour without needing extra film or plates. The example (shown below) consists of Pantone® 032 at: 100% + 50% + 25%. These 3 'shades' would all be on 1 piece of film & 1 plate.

Spot color printing creates brighter, more vibrant results, but with a smaller color range. When printing in single (spot) colors, a single color ink (normally with a Pantone reference number) is applied to the printing press roller. If there is just one color to be printed, there will be a single plate, and a single run of the press. If there are two colors, there will be two plates and two runs, and so on. The colors are layered onto the paper one by one.
